

CITADEL ROAD SHOWS FAQ

I don't have any theatre equipment. Can I host a Road Show?

Absolutely. We bring the whole production with us! We do have a couple of small asks to consider to make sure your Road Show experience is smooth and awesome. Click here for a requirements sheet!

I want a Road Show but I want to curate the set list/artists. Is that possible?

Our artists put in a lot of work to assemble their sets and rehearse them so they're ready to roll for your Road Show – it's that kind of time and preparation that makes every show awesome! But it also means that set changes/requests cannot be made for Road Shows at this time.

What if it rains on my scheduled Road Show date?

If we've learned anything this year, it's that sometimes things beyond our control keep the show from going. If inclement weather gets in the way, we'll work with you to book a new date at no cost to you.

What makes Road Shows safe for the performers and the audience?

Artist and audience safety are top of mind as always. We've worked with Alberta Health Services to ensure that every performance is stress-free.
